

Tuesday night. The dispatch adds that the British and French missions met the heads of the Polish Government Tuesday.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Polish troops in Paris claim the advance of the Northern Red Army is becoming slower and that the resistance of the Poles is more stubborn. They declare Polish forces still are holding Ostrołęka, 22 miles southwest of Lomza, and the Warsaw-Danzig railroad is in no immediate danger.

The Bolsheviks are being held by the Poles at Brest-Litovsk and have suffered a loss of 500 killed and drowned there in repeated attempts to throw their forces across the Bug River, according to Wednesday's communication from Warsaw, which officially confirms facts previously announced.

The communists announce that the Reds have forced the river Narw below Lomza and that Bolshevik cavalry patrols have reached Ostrołęka, fifty-three miles northeast of Warsaw. Near the Russian border, Bolshevik forces have occupied Kohn, eighteen miles northwest of Lomza, and have attacked the fortress of Ostrołęka, twenty-two miles southwest of Lomza. The Poles were reported to be making a stand at the latter place.

The communists reports show fighting along the Bug, the Reds having forced the stream in the region of Orshelka and the Polish troops endeavoring to throw the Bolsheviks back across the river.

SOVIET HAS SECRET PACT WITH BERLIN REGARDING POLAND

Reds to Take Possession, Then Turn Country Over to Germany, Is Report.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Soviet Russia concluded a secret treaty with Germany concerning Poland a few weeks before the great Polish offensive began, says a correspondent of the London Times. He asserts he obtained the information from "excellent authority."

The treaty, it is asserted, contained the following provisions:

Russia, without interference from Germany, would be allowed to appropriate all of Poland's arms, munition, rolling stock and foodstuffs.

After the conquest of Poland, permission would be given Russia to send a number of Bolshevik Commissioners into that country to control the export of Polish supplies of all kinds.

Russia would then undertake to evacuate Poland completely in favor of Germany, which would hold Poland as a guarantee against future credits to Russia in return for German goods and German labor.

"Russia," the correspondent adds, "intends to try to avoid the terms of this treaty by the creation of a Polish Bolshevik army, the first step in the formation of which are now being taken in occupied areas of Poland. When Russia withdraws from Poland she will leave this Polish army, permitting Germany to take such steps as she can to face the situation."

The Bolshevik believe England will not materially aid Poland and will leave their next campaign against Roumania in Roumania.

DEMOCRATS HAPPY, LEAVE SARATOGA SURE OF VICTORY

Certain "Suggested Ticket" Will Sweep Primary and Be Elected.

By Joseph S. Jordan.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Aug. 5.—The delegates to the Democratic Conference, their work finished, have quietly folded their tents like the Arabs of old and departed, this way and that way, north, south, east and west, and left Saratoga to its own devices and the races. The departure, unlike the exodus of Republicans last week, was a peculiarly happy one. The Republicans went away in gloom, for the reason that they didn't know whom they had designated for Governor, save that his name was Nathan L. Miller.

Not so the delegates to the Democratic State Conference. They went away thoroughly knowing the men they named, suggested or showed a preference for, and confident in their ability to elect the ticket headed by Gov. Alfred E. Smith, and with Lieut. Gov. Harry C. Walker making the fight for the United States Senate.

Most of the men who came up here were of the opinion that before Election Day a lot of them would be called to Albany for an extra session, and it was pretty well understood outside of Saratoga Springs that the housing situation in Greater New York demanded an extraordinary session, as well as a few other things which called for immediate action. But Gov. Smith, up to the time of his leaving for Albany last night, had not decided to issue the call.

NO SUREHEADS IN THE DEMOCRATIC RANKS.

There wasn't a surehead in the Democratic ranks who went away from Saratoga Springs as a result of the conference. There were hardly anything but sureheads who left here last week after the unofficial Republican convention. They came here to designate a ticket, but found that they had as much to do with the designating as the Democrats who came after them.

There is one thing to be said about the convention, or conference, or whatever anybody wants to call it. It was a wide open proposition, and there wasn't a leader or candidate who didn't have a chance to express his preference. There were no backroom sessions as there were last week among the Republican bosses. The delegates, while they might not have known what the general results were going to be, knew what was being

COX TO MAKE NEW SUFFRAGE MOVE

He Promises Further Attempts to Bring About Ratification in Tennessee.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 5.—Additional measures to secure Tennessee's ratification of the Federal Woman Suffrage Amendment were promised today by Gov. Cox, Democratic Presidential candidate.

In what avenues his efforts would be put forth the nominee did not state, but he said that he would make further moves immediately. He held another conference today with the Tennessee delegation, with Mrs. Abby Scott Baker of the National Woman's Party.

Judge Holmes overruled a request to strike out the reference to three cents. He also denied the Government's motion asking admission to show what the market price of sugar was on the day of sale.

HEAVY SEAS HALT ATHLETES TRAINING

Bohland Suffers Deep Scap Wound and Is Added to Hospital List.

ON BOARD U. S. S. MATOIKA, Aug. 5 (By Wireless to the Associated Press).—The training exercises of the American Olympic athletes were curtailed today by fog and rain. No work besides walking and drilling was undertaken, except by the swimmers, who practiced in a steam-heated tank which is coupled to the boilers, the temperature of the water being kept at 70 degrees.

Max Bohland, the New York steeplechaser, suffered a cut in the scalp, due to the rolling of the ship. Three stitches were required to close the wound.

SUGAR CASES GO TO TRIAL.

Rouletten Accused of Making Nearly 12 Cents a Pound.

A jury was selected today to try the indictment charging profiteering in sugar, on which Andrew Rouletten, an individual, and Rouletten, Eckert & Co., as a corporation, were brought before Judge Edwin R. Holmes in United States District Court. Fourteen men, who said they were prejudiced against all profiteering, and one who said he believed a dealer was entitled to all he could get, were chosen.

The indictment was charged with selling at $2.13 a pound, a pound, alleged as part of a lot of 1,100,000 pounds bought by Rouletten, at 1.03 cents a pound. The indictment was three cents a pound higher than a fair profit.

The letter to Gov. Cox was written by Judge Joseph C. Higgins, former member of the Court of Civil Appeals, and that to Senator Harding by Judge G. N. Tilden, who in 1916, polled the highest vote ever given a Republican candidate for Governor of Tennessee.

PROVIDENCE UP TO 237.95.

Census Bureau Announces Increase in Population of 5.5 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Census Bureau today announced the population of Providence, R. I., as 237,954, an increase of 15,590 or 6.5 per cent. over the figures for 1910.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The population of the State of Oregon is 785,285, an increase of 110,229, or 16.4 per cent., since 1910, the Census Bureau announced.

NEW DEMOCRATIC CLUB FOR WHITE PLAINS.

A Young Men's Democratic Club, to be permanent organization, is to be formed in White Plains. It will be modeled in many respects on the old Wilson Club, which had considerable influence in local politics until more than 50 per cent. of its members entered the service during the war, when it was disbanded.

HARDING DENIES TRYING TO BLOCK VOTES FOR WOMEN

Telegraphs Mrs. Catt that "No Discouragement Is Being Voiced Here."

MARION, O., Aug. 5.—Further influence for ratification of the Woman Suffrage Amendment by the Tennessee Legislature was exerted today by Senator Harding in telegrams to Republican and Suffrage leaders at Nashville.

To State Senator John C. Houk, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, the nominee wired as follows:

"With the approach of a decision by the General Assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the Suffrage Amendment to the Federal Constitution, I would like to be advised as to the poll of Republican members. I cling to the belief that the Tennessee Republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by effective ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the women citizenship of our Nation."

He also sent a telegram of encouragement to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt in response to a joint appeal for help from her and Mrs. George Fort Milton, President of the Tennessee League of Women Voters. The message to Mrs. Catt follows:

"Your telegram received. No discouragement is voiced from here. On the contrary we are continuing to encourage the Republicans of Tennessee General Assembly to join cordially in the effort to consummate ratification."

This was in apparent denial of a Washington story that he was secretly discouraging ratification.

Correspondence and more political conferences occupied Senator Harding most of today, although he set aside time in the afternoon to receive a delegation from Ohio State University and to visit as a guest of honor the reunion here of Civil War veterans of the old Fourth Ohio Infantry. The delegation from the university was to arrive late in the day and be received by the nominee on the front porch, but he did not intend to make a speech.

Senator Watson of Indiana, who came to Marion yesterday to see the nominee, issued a statement today declaring that George White's selection as Democratic National Chairman had held cement President Wilson's hold on the Democratic nomination.

"Mr. White is himself a Princeton graduate," said the statement. "I have often talked with him about the President's administration for whom he has made no secret. Mr. White's selection was no compromise at all, because President Wilson wins at all points."

SUIT AGAINST RIVAL WHO REFUSED WIFE IN CLIMAX OF TRAGEDY

rather earn her own living than accept support from her husband. REPEATEDLY OFFERED TO SURRENDER HIS WIFE.

Chisholm swears that he tried to save some happiness from the wreck for his wife by repeated offers to step out and let her have the man of her choice. He refused to be a sham husband and a mere living screen for his wife's affection for the husband of another woman.

Again and again he told Parker, the complaint and the narrative relate, either to take Mrs. Chisholm openly and fairly before the world by legal means in place of his own wife or stay away from her.

And even in the legal wording of his last desperate step of suing Parker, Chisholm has insisted on having his lawyers incorporate into the cold controversial legal wording of his suit the assertion that he still believes his wife is and always has been "a good woman."

To all of which, Parker, in an answering affidavit, shortly replies he never sought to win away the love she once had for her husband.

Parker at Morristown today declined to say more about Chisholm's suit and accusations than that the charge was false that he had weaned away Mrs. Chisholm's affections or that she had given them to him to the exclusion of her husband. He had known her many years, he said, and their friendship always had regard for their duties to their own families.

Just how great was the pressure from within himself which made Chisholm seek a settlement of his heart-breaking battle for his wife's love and his home in the courts, where it must inevitably be exposed to all the world to be pulled apart and pondered in every home which has been so much as touched by the remote shadow of such a tragedy—only his closest friends know.

He has kept away from his business place at No. 178 Centre Street since the papers were filed and has secluded himself to the quietude of Newark. The other persons in the drama are, for the time, hiding, bruised and hurt from the curious interest in their lives, and most secret feelings have been laid bare.

The Chisholm and the Parker families occupied cottages on the opposite shores of Culver's Lake in 1918, according to the legal narrative. Chisholm, coming home from New York, because aware of his wife's acquaintance with a neighbor named Parker. He saw the acquaintance grow until even when her husband would be at home Mrs. Chisholm chose to be in Parker's company. She frequently went riding in Parker's automobile.

REMONSTRATED AT PARKER'S GIVING AUTO LESSONS.

To an inquiry by her husband she said that Parker was teaching her to drive an automobile and she would soon be able to drive the Chisholm car when her husband was away at his business. The explanation seemed entirely reasonable, Chisholm says, until going out by himself on a lonely road he came upon Mrs. Chisholm and Parker at a "lesson."

Mrs. Chisholm was at the wheel; her teacher's arm was about her and his hands rested near and on hers. It is asserted. Chisholm says he did not interfere, but told his wife he thought the lessons might be less instructive for the sake of appearances, at any rate.

A few days later, he continues, he saw from his own lawn his wife and their seven-year-old daughter in the canoe skirting the shore on which was the Parker home. The canoe put into the beach and the little girl went up to the Parker place and a little later she returned to her.

Mrs. Chisholm told her husband, according to the sworn story, that she and Parker had decided to accept Chisholm's terms andelope. They were about six miles from Morristown in an automobile when Parker stopped the car and said: "This is all wrong;

Harding, Editor Candidate, 'Makes Up' His Own Newspaper

To prove that he knows his own business "from the ground up" (and perhaps to implant in the public mind the idea that he would be just as thorough in a larger job) Senator Harding, owner of the Marion (Ohio) Star, took off his coat the other day, bent over the steel forms of hot type, and "made up" the next edition of his paper.

It was quite a ceremony. There was a movie camera man there—lighting arrangements had to be made in advance. The experts say that Harding did the stunt with perfect technique—with the possible exception of lurid language, in which phase of the business nobody can compete with a regular day-in-and-day-out make-up man.

so disturbed him, his story runs on, that he went to Parker at his home and laid his own feelings before his wife's friend quite frankly.

From that talk Chisholm came away, he tells the court, satisfied that whatever danger might have been possible to him and his wife's happiness was averted and that Parker, then the summer, Chisholm spent all his time in New York without any suspicion that this was not the case, visiting his summer home only at week-ends until September. Then the maid servant mentioned the frequent presence of Parker at the place during his absences.

Then for the first time, Chisholm asserts, he made up his mind that his wife must for her own good and future either unite her life with Parker's or leave the tragedy to his hands. He was gravely stricken with influenza. Parker asked permission to visit her and Chisholm granted it. This breaking of the solemn vow of separation by consent did not seem to him to have changed the relations until the spring of 1919 when he found reason to believe that Chisholm and Parker were corresponding and seeing each other occasionally.

Chisholm, in his earnestness, had by the time included Mr. Parker in his contemplation of the future peace and happiness for Mrs. Chisholm and a relief from uncertainty and suspicion for himself. He made a demand that she should be lived up to, and the alternative was the threat of a public suit.

Mrs. Chisholm showed him a letter from Parker, praising her husband, acknowledging that he was wrong and could lead only to sorrow, and renouncing her forever. Once again, he says, he was satisfied the tragedy had been avoided. But by the first of this year he heard things and felt things in his own home that led him to ask go to war with Parker, which was indefinite in its conclusions.

Last July Mrs. Chisholm went to the White Mountains to stay for the summer. She was back two days later, unable, Chisholm believes, to stay away from Parker. More foreboding than ever Chisholm proposed the alternative to the man he believed had supplanted him.

"I must either take her—or leave her alone—or face a suit for alienation of her affections," Chisholm said.

"That much as I want to," said Parker, according to Chisholm, "I cannot. I must consider my sons. I must educate them."

Doug and Mary sued.

Summons in an action by Benjamin P. Schulberg in Superior Court against the United Artists Corporation—David W. Griffith, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and Charles Chaplin—was filed today by the United Artists Corporation, No. 620 Broadway, counsel for Schulberg. Fairbanks and his wife were served at 414 Street and Madison Avenue on Monday.

I must think of my boys, I must educate them."

They talked, according to her supporting affidavit, until they agreed for the last time to know each other no more and returned to their homes.

Parker, according to Chisholm, sought a conference to avert the suit, but was told that the elopement, even though it had been broken off, had put an end to further acceptance of promises and the suit was instituted. It does not appear in the papers just what motive moved Mrs. Chisholm to supply her husband's lawyers with the answers to questions, three days ago, which tend to corroborate his story.

COX COMPLETING PROGRAM FOR NOTIFICATION DAY

Dayton Already Filling Up With Crowds for the Ceremony Next Saturday.

HAYTON, O., Aug. 5.—With his Presidential nomination ceremonies only two days distant, Gov. Cox was hard pressed today with preliminary details and closing up Ohio executive and personal affairs to be free for the campaign after Saturday's event.

Hotels are filling up, more decorations appearing and the local committee on arrangements was busy completing preparations for the Democratic convalescence.

Makeup of the special campaign committee and the speaking itineraries of Gov. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt are the principal affairs remaining to complete the campaign organization. Announcements are expected soon after Chairman White and others prominent in the Cox-Roosevelt organization can consult.

An aggressive fight was announced yesterday by Gov. Cox in his address at a picnic of local Democrats in which he declared the Democrats would be on the offensive and charged the Republicans with "ploughing around the stump" and presenting opposition of "expediency pure and simple" by appeal to various groups. The Governor also declared his acceptance speech would be so plain that it could be understood by school children.

To care for the crowds expected on Saturday, Dayton residents are being asked to throw open their homes to visitors over the week-end and also to donate automobiles to meet visiting delegations. Large crowds are reported coming from nearby States and even Pennsylvania and New York.

PONZI CONSULTED BY NEW YORKERS; THE RUN IS OVER

Only About Fifty Persons in Line To-Day to Have Notes Cashed.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Hardly more than half a hundred holders of Charles Ponzi's notes calling for 50 per cent. interest in ninety days appeared today at the hour for reopening the offices of the Securities Exchange Company. In addition to this evidence that the run, which began ten days ago, was virtually over, there was noted a marked unwillingness on the part of note holders to deal with speculators to buy their claims.

In the early days of the run, speculators bought hundreds of notes, usually at ten per cent. discount and then took their place in line and cashed them in. One speculator claimed to have made a profit of $14,000 in a single day.

Joseph E. Herman and two others, said to represent the Commonwealth Trading and Securities Corporation of No. 25 West 43d Street, New York, conferred with Ponzi here today. Ponzi previously had announced that a New York syndicate had made him an offer for his business and that a conference had been arranged.

Mr. Herman said he and his associates had made a careful investigation of Ponzi and his business and had satisfied themselves that his methods were sound. Ponzi, he said, was doing the bulk of his business in France and dealing in foreign exchange. The inquiry into the business, Mr. Herman added, originated in Europe.

Gov. Coolidge and the Executive Council announced today they had appropriated $8,000 for the use of Attorney General J. Weston Allen, who is to employ a portion of the sum in his investigation of Ponzi's business.

Lloyd George Announces He Will Not Be Allowed to Land.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Premier Lloyd George in answering a question in the House of Commons today as to how the Government proposed to deal with Archbishop Mannix, said that the Government decision was that the Archbishop should not be allowed to land in Ireland.

Such steps would be taken as were deemed necessary to make the decision effective, added the Premier.
